

MailSite® ExpressPro

MailSite ExpressPro is a state-of-the-art web client for managing email, calendars and contacts built using the latest AJAX technology

WHAT IS IT?

MailSite ExpressPro is a state-of-the-art web client for managing email, calendars and contacts that has been built using the latest AJAX technology. MailSite ExpressPro has the look and feel of Outlook, so users that are familiar with Outlook will be right at home.

MOBILITY & OUTLOOK

In combination with the MailSite Sync Server, MailSite ExpressPro can automatically synchronize email, calendar and contact data with Microsoft Outlook and all leading Smartphones. This means that the user's email, calendar and contact data is always available from any device or web browser, anywhere in the world at all times.

WHAT'S NEW?

MailSite ExpressPro now supports background synchronization. This means that you can quickly manage your email using any web browser and ExpressPro will synchronize your changes in the background. ExpressPro also now supports offline operation. You can disconnect and reconnect to the internet on your notebook computer and ExpressPro will reconnect automatically in the background.

CALENDAR SHARING

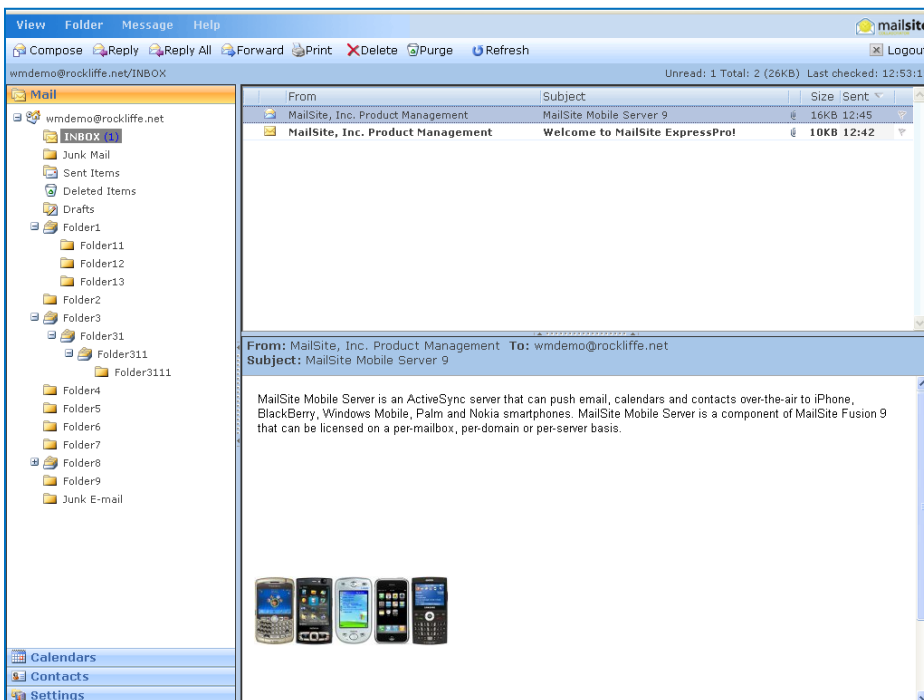

MailSite ExpressPro allows users to subscribe to remote calendars such as Google Calendars. It also allows users to share their own calendars with others who use clients such as Apple Mac iCal, Mozilla Lightning and Google Calendar.

FULL FEATURED

ExpressPro includes support for right-click and drag-and-drop functionality just like a desktop client. ExpressPro comes with support for 18 languages. ExpressPro can also be "skinned" by the Administrator or end user.

BUNDLED

MailSite ExpressPro comes bundled with all versions of MailSite Fusion at no additional cost.

Advanced Calendaring

Personal calendars can be managed in MailSite ExpressPro, on a Smartphone or in Microsoft Outlook (with the MailSite Sync Server), allowing business users to keep their Outlook calendar in synch while on the road or at home. For those who use a different client, MailSite supports Google Calendar and Apple iCal. MailSite calendars can also be shared with family, friends and colleagues allowing easy meeting scheduling.

MailSite ExpressPro and Microsoft Outlook can be used to view multiple public calendars on most common systems such as Google calendar and Apple iCal.

- Manage multiple calendars from one place
- Outlook and web calendar automatically synchronized
- Collaborate with Windows, Google and Apple users

Flexible Contact Lists

MailSite ExpressPro stores contacts in the powerful vCard format. Enterprise users will love the ability to see all contacts in their domain so that they have colleagues available at a mouse-click. Users can choose to see anyone who has sent a mail currently in their Inbox. Personal contact lists can be automatically synchronized with Microsoft Outlook.
