DATA SHEET

MailSite® 11 ExpressPro

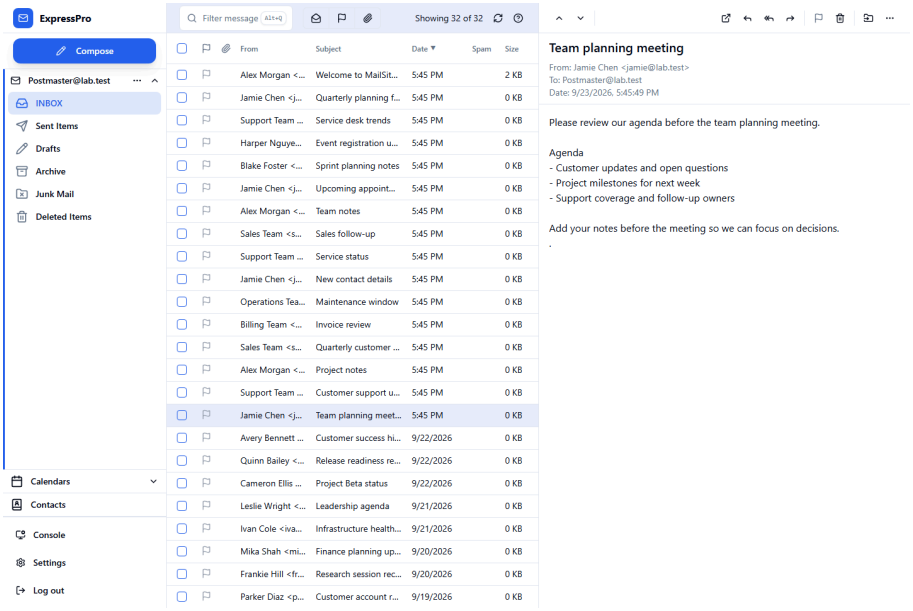

MailSite ExpressPro is a modern web client for email, calendars, contacts, tasks and notes

WHAT IS IT?

MailSite ExpressPro is the web client that comes with MailSite 11. People sign in from a browser and work with their email, calendars, contacts, tasks and notes in one place. Its three-pane mail view will feel familiar to anyone who uses Outlook.

MOBILITY AND OUTLOOK

ExpressPro works on the same mailbox as every other app. A change made in ExpressPro appears in Classic Outlook over MAPI over HTTP, in desktop apps that use Exchange Web Services (EWS) and on phones that use Exchange ActiveSync. The user's email, calendars and contacts are always available from any device or web browser.

WHAT'S NEW?

ExpressPro is rewritten for MailSite 11. It has a three-pane mail view, full text search and themes. Tasks and notes join mail, calendars and contacts in the same application. MailSite serves ExpressPro itself, with no IIS to install, and the package also includes it as a Windows desktop app.

CALENDAR SHARING

ExpressPro lets users subscribe to calendars published elsewhere. It also lets them share their own calendars with colleagues, or publish a calendar as a link for people outside the organization.

FULL FEATURED

ExpressPro supports drag and drop, just like a desktop client. Each user can choose a light or dark theme, and the administrator can set the default theme and design the sign-in page.

BUNDLED

ExpressPro comes with every MailSite 11 installation at no additional cost.

ADVANCED CALENDARING

Personal calendars can be managed in ExpressPro, on a phone or in Classic Outlook, so business users keep the same calendar at the office, on the road or at home. Calendars can be shared with colleagues, which makes meetings easy to schedule. Room and equipment mailboxes can be booked like people.

ExpressPro can also show calendars published by other systems. A subscribed calendar refreshes by itself and appears next to the user's own.

- Manage several calendars from one place
- Outlook, phone and web calendars stay in step
- Publish a calendar for people outside the organization

FLEXIBLE CONTACT LISTS

Contacts, tasks and notes are part of ExpressPro, not separate add-ons. Users can keep extra folders for contacts, tasks and notes and share any of them with colleagues. Contacts stay in step with Classic Outlook and with phones.
